Partner: _____

Due Date: _____

You will be developing and conducting an interview. This assignment will be completed DURING class with your classmates. Follow the directions on this sheet as well as the directions given verbally!!! All separate elements must be completed on time for full credit!

1. On the back of this page, list as many "health" topics as you can think of. Organize your brainstormed list by the following "categories" of health issues.

psychological health.....physical health.....global health.....social health.....environmental health.....any more????

2. Choose five topics from your list that you are interested in!! Using a piece of clean writing paper, list the topics and name three places (sources) that you have been exposed to, or heard about the topic (TV, music, life, friends, family.....)
3. Write 5 basic introduction questions to use when you begin your interview. Completing these questions with your partner will serve as an introduction for you both.
4. Write 10 interview questions: two questions per health topic. You want to learn WHAT your partner thinks, WHY they think it (who or what has influenced their thoughts) and HOW they try to incorporate their ideas into their life. DO NOT WRITE PERSONAL QUESTIONS !!
5. You will be assigned a partner. Your job is to interview your partner about health issues, attitudes and ideas. It is NOT your job to change their minds or ideas. Keep your opinions out of this assignment and just gather their facts!! Use your questions as a START... you will need to expand in order to get enough detail!!
6. Conduct your interview. Set up a note sheet for the information you gather. Follow the directions given in class. Take notes on everything your partner says!! When you finish, double check your facts by reading back to your partner.
GET THE DETAILS.....DETAILS.....DETAILS!! :)

7. Use your notes to compose an article about your partner's ideas. DO NOT repeat the questions in the article!! Your article should have 7 paragraphs (Intro, 5 body paragraphs , one per health topic and a conclusion) . Read your article to your partner . Make sure all the information is correct and your paper reads smoothly. * Remember, include what your partner thinks, why they think it and how they try to incorporate their ideas into their life.*
8. Type a final draft. Use 12 point font and double space your work. I will have lap tops for you to use in class
